

Early Oil and Gas Careers: An Unexpected Journey

Tiffany A. Yaxley

Roke Technologies Ltd. Calgary, Alberta

In recent years industry jobs have not been easy to come by for new graduates. This talk is focused on; outlining options for new grad careers that are not the “standard” Exploration & Production company job, personality types that fit into different sides of the industry and the importance of keeping an open mind and positive attitude when you are early in your career.

Tiffany Yaxley currently works at Roke Technologies Ltd. as the company Geology Specialist and Technical Sales Manager for Canada. Tiffany has been in industry since 2005 and has experience at large, medium and small E&P companies as well as service companies. Tiffany graduated with a BSc. in Geology from the University of Alberta and is an active member in the CSPG, CWLS, AAPG and CUSR.
